Our Hexagonal Campus, the Mountains, the Union, and

Potomac State College is: a catalyst to further learning; a formative state of mind; an experiment in community living; the apex of a glass mountain during the winter months; filling out "zillion" forms at registration; feeling selfconscious because the outlandish clothes you have to wear during Hell Week; a wagon-wheel campus radiating from a central flower bed with majestic buildings at the end of the spokes; a beanie capped Freshman singing the "Alma Mater"; the Drill Team in cadence marching around the campus; the loud juke box in the Student Union; carol singing at the Christmas dinner in the cafeteria; perspiration and examinations; yelling to egg the Catamounts on to victory at football and basketball games; typing term papers and research papers; staring dismally through a "dorm" window at the rain; waiting nervously for parents to get grades; the great feeling of an "A" on a test; long, hot afternoon "labs"; bridge in the Union between classes; staying up late "shooting the breeze"; walking around the traditional flower bed; looking at the mountains and dreaming of what's beyond literally and figuratively; sitting on a bench hand-in-hand; enjoying a seminar or play; participating in fraternities and sororities; climbing Queens Point and viewing the college, Keyser, and the memorable valley beyond; trips to the Blue Jay, bowling alley, and headaches; classes in which an hour seemed like a day or like ten minutes; a library book left unnoticed until it's a week overdue; colorful exhibits in the Administration Building's hallway display case; getting help from Dean Handlan with a snarled-up schedule; the smell of formaldehyde in the Biology "lab"; students who commute envying dorm students and vice versa; tulips in front of the library in the spring; tennis back of the gym and at the Keyser Tennis Club on Route # 46; tripping on the steps and wondering if anyone notices; waiting for money from home; Coach Lough's Christmas tree on the balcony at Davis Hall; going to class in the Arts Center in sub-zero weather with 60 mph winds; the eerie quiet of the dorm at 3:00 a.m. when everyone else is asleep; not studying; trying to find a ride back from downtown; getting a hamburger in the Steak Pit when people next to you are having sirloin; clean sheets every Tuesday; tests on Saturday; gym classes at 8 a.m.; girls competing with boys in intramural basketball; remembering "Anthony and the Imperials"; listening to "Peaches and Herb"; pizza and popcorn in the dorm; being caught unprepared for a quiz; trying to get WBZ on the radio; trading growls with roommate at 7:00 a.m.; trying, just once, to get to class on time; rushing to the mailbox every morning; running up a big bill in local stores; and looking ahead, with regret, toward leaving Potomac State College.

Dedication Of Arts Center Promises

Presentation of the Arts Center, Pres. Board of Governors, W. V. U.

Response: Mrs. Kirkland S. McKee
Ernest Elliott Church

In Dedication

We dedicate this building to enrichment and elevation of the human spirit through the mystery and grace of music, the critical insights of drama, the liberating quality of art, and the stimulation of liberal education.

We dedicate this building to the advancement of aesthetic experience throughout the collegiate community.

We dedicate this building to students young and old who may within these halls find that necessary mixture of disciplined knowledge and rare emotional expression which is the essence of all art.

Leonard G. Withers
Professor and Chairman
Department of Music

The Arts Center being dedicated today bears the names of two of Potomac State College's most esteemed former administrators, Ernest Elliott Church, president 1936-1964, and Kirkland Shepherd McKee, dean 1936-1963.

They were an unforgettable team, working in the interest of Potomac State College for over a quarter of a century.

The two educators began duties in their respective roles here the fall of 1936, Dr. Church following 17 years and Dean McKee 19 years of prior service in public education.

Dean McKee died in office May 20, 1963. Dr. Church resigned July 1964 to become executive secretary to the West Virginia Commission on Higher Education, retiring from that position in July 1967.

Their combined 55 years of service to this college spanned a period of growth from the meager to the abundant in every area of campus life.

Theirs were rich and full years of service not only to this college but to the community and to the cause of higher education in the State of West Virginia.

THE CHURCH–McKEE ARTS CENTER

The Church-McKee Arts Center, constructed and equipped at a cost of approximately $1,400,000, was made possible through combined State and Federal funds.

During groundbreaking ceremonies March 22, 1966, Mrs. Gilbert S. Bachmann, a member of the Board of Governors of West Virginia University, remarked that the building will be "a promise to today's students, a promise to tomorrow's students, and an expression of the State's faith in Potomac State College."

As construction got underway, President Todd H. Bullard spoke of the college's realizing "a long cherished ambition to provide the institution with the means of stimulating increased cultural and aesthetic appreciation among its students".

The Church-McKee Arts Center is truly a multi-purpose building.

The auditorium provides not only seating for nearly 1,000 persons, a generous size stage, dressing rooms and supporting areas for dramatics, and a three-bay projection area for visual aids, but has movable partitions which enable the auditorium area to be divided into four large classrooms. Future plans call for the use of closed circuit television in conjunction with a new academic building scheduled for completion in 1969.

The arts wing contains studios, classrooms, and offices for music and art.

Robert J. Bennett, Morgantown, was architect for the building. Mellon-Stuart Company, Pittsburgh, was general contractor.

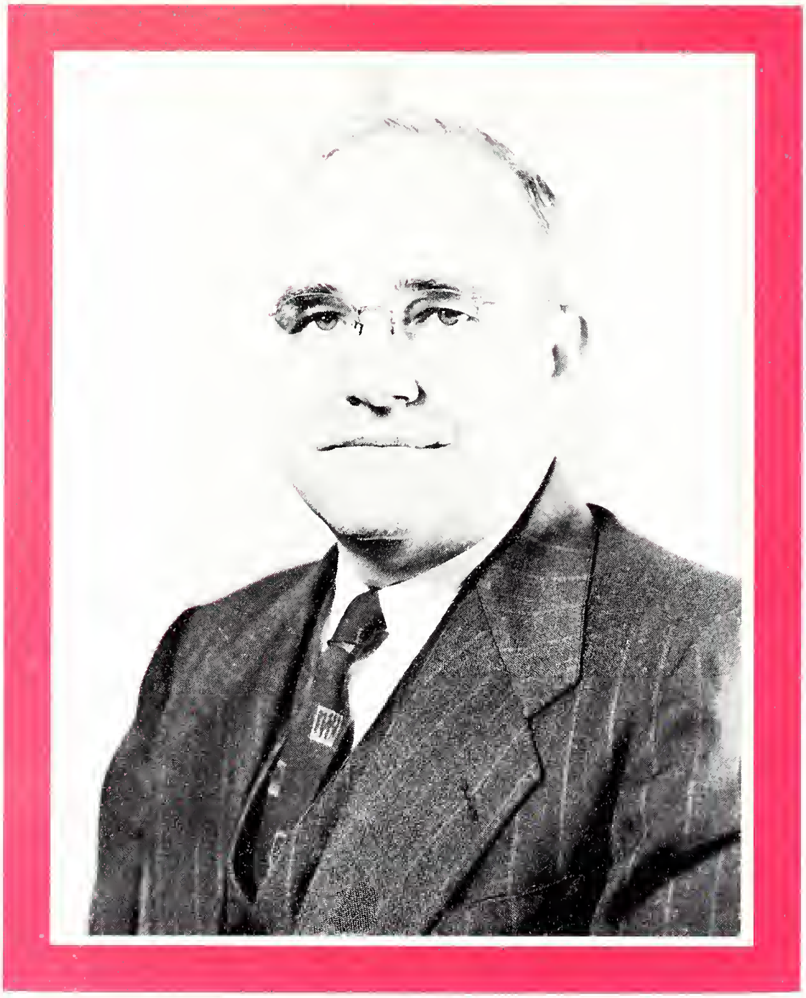
Foreword

The 1968 Catamount presents a panorama of student life at Potomac State College - - - a complete picture of the events of this year. It includes some events that are unique to this year, such as the dedication of the Church-McKee Arts Center, as well as events that are traditional as Homecoming. Its pages depict the exciting, as well as the everyday, occurences that color the lives of Potomac State College students. In this year's Catamount, we have attempted to express at least in a small part, the many experiences of each of us that we hope will leave an indelible mark of our college years, possibly the most important and the most meaningful of our lives. The pictures here are intended to bring to mind new friends, with which the common bond of shared experiences created a deepened friendship, new knowledge offering doors through which the mind expanded to deal with challenges ahead, and new independence with a growing ability to use it wisely. We, the Catamount staff, feel that the 1968 Catamount will be a success only if, for each student looking at its pages, it serves as a reminder of this year at Potomac State College. We hope that it will be such a reminder for each of you and find a place among your most frequently looked-at books.



Dedicated To—
WALTER H. BOONE

It would be difficult to count the number of doctors, veterinarians, dentists, nurses, engineers, and chemists now in the professional world who began their college careers in his class. Firm and patient, demanding excellence and offering help, every year he turns out students whose continuing success is proof of his abilities as a teacher.

His friends know him as an amicable companion and skilled sportsman.

His family know him as a loving husband and father.

His students know him as a guide into their chosen field.

As you have dedicated your career to your students, we dedicate the 1968 CATAMOUNT to you, Professor Walter H. Boone.

ADMINISTRATION FACULTY

DR. TODD H. BULLARD

President

A college yearbook appeals to many kinds of interests and to many levels of concern. For most alumni, I suppose, the yearbook achieves its greatest impact at a point in time far removed from the date of graduation. We look back then to see the physical changes in ourselves, in others, and in the campus. We marvel that friends and acquaintances can have grown so bald, or fat, or old. We wonder how education could have been accomplished in such inadequate facilities. The moral is that ceaseless change affects us all and that the camera in freezing people and places at a moment in time gives us a sharp insight into the impact of change upon individual lives and well-loved places.

As you look through the pages of this book in the years ahead, I hope that change in age and circumstance has treated you kindly, and that the college to which you return a decade or two hence will have kept pace with the rising expectations and great challenges which now and in the future must inevitably affect all of higher education.

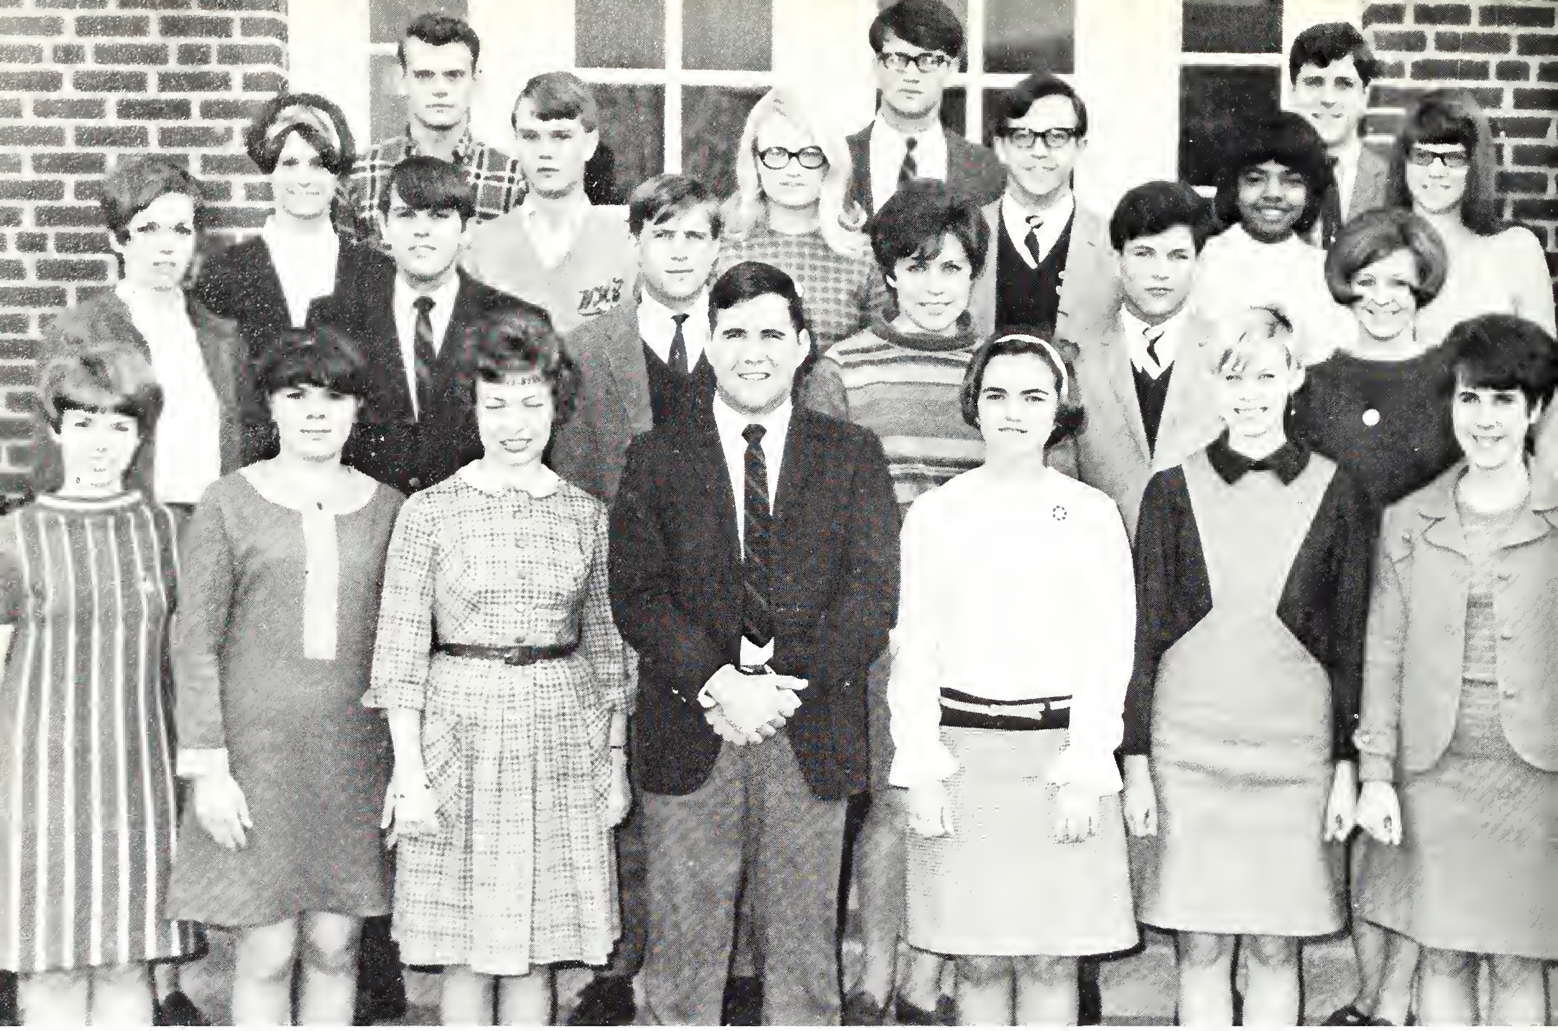
ORGANIZATIONS



Student Council

The Student Government, the governing order of the Student Body, has as its goals to further school spirit and to achieve a cordial understanding between students and faculty. It is under the supervision of the faculty. Its duties include the organization and management of many activities on campus.

The Council provided guides to welcome freshmen, sold "beanies," and distributed Freshmen Rules. Members of Student Government helped plan Homecoming activities by forming committees for the dance and the parade. New uniforms for the cheerleaders and letters were purchased by the Council.

The major activity sponsored by the Student Government was the appearance of Anthony and the Imperials. The show was an overwhelming success as the first event of its nature at Potomac State. Held on November 11, the concert attracted an audience of over 800 students and adults, and the performance drew a standing ovation at the finale.

The Legislature worked diligently throughout the year to uphold the Constitution by trying "to promote a common understanding, to provide for the orderly conduct of the affairs of the college, to elevate the standards of scholarship, and to increase school spirit."

Council Officers Discuss Plans for the Year

Catamount—Our College Yearbook

The 1968 Catamount began in September at Registration, when students' pictures were taken and their orders placed for copies. The business staff began visiting area merchants, getting advertisements, and the typing and editorial departments started planning the different sections, organizing layout, and arranging the "white dummy," the most important part of production. It is arranged exactly as the finished yearbook will be, and enables the staff to catch mistakes in planning before they become disasters.

Many people who have never seen how a yearbook is produced may think that little work is involved. Actually, long hours and a lot of hard work are required of each member of the staff. Pictures must be taken, separated and fixed, and finally arranged on each page. Each picture must be captioned correctly and the caption typed without errors. Copy has to be proofread before it is sent to the printer and after it is returned. Theme, a basic color, type of paper and print must be decided upon, and all this has to be done with an eye on the budget, which is usually limited.

Since one picture is worth a thousand words, as the saying goes, we have tried to make the 1968 Catamount say a great deal about this year—the events, campus life and friends that you, the student, will remember. We hope that this edition of the Catamount will earn a special place among your mementos of Potomac State College.

Adviser and Staff at Work in News-Tribune Composing Room

Spring 1968 marks the completion of 46 years of uninterrupted publication by the Pasquino, the college newspaper.

Published under the direction of the journalism department, the paper is staffed by students in the journalism classes assisted by a number of non-journalism volunteers.

The name Pasquino, which the paper has used since 1921, is of historical significance, derived from the name of one of Rome's famous "talking statues." The statue of Pasquino to which anonymous comments were attached in the 16th Century still stands near the Piazza Navona.

The editorial staff of the Pasquino, composed mainly of journalism majors, acquire valuable practical experience not only in writing, editing, layout work, and headlining, but in assisting with the actual production of the paper which is printed by the offset method at the News-Tribune newspaper plant, Keyser.

The newspaper's circulation (about 2,100) covers not only the student body and staff but parents of all non-cummuting students, many alumni, and numerous colleges and high schools both in and out of the state. Editions appear fortnightly, except for holiday and examination periods.

An annual project of the Pasquino is the sponsorship of the Student-Faculty Directory. Principal positions on the staff for the succeeding year are announced by the adviser at the spring banquet, when the guest speaker is a person prominent in the mass communications media.

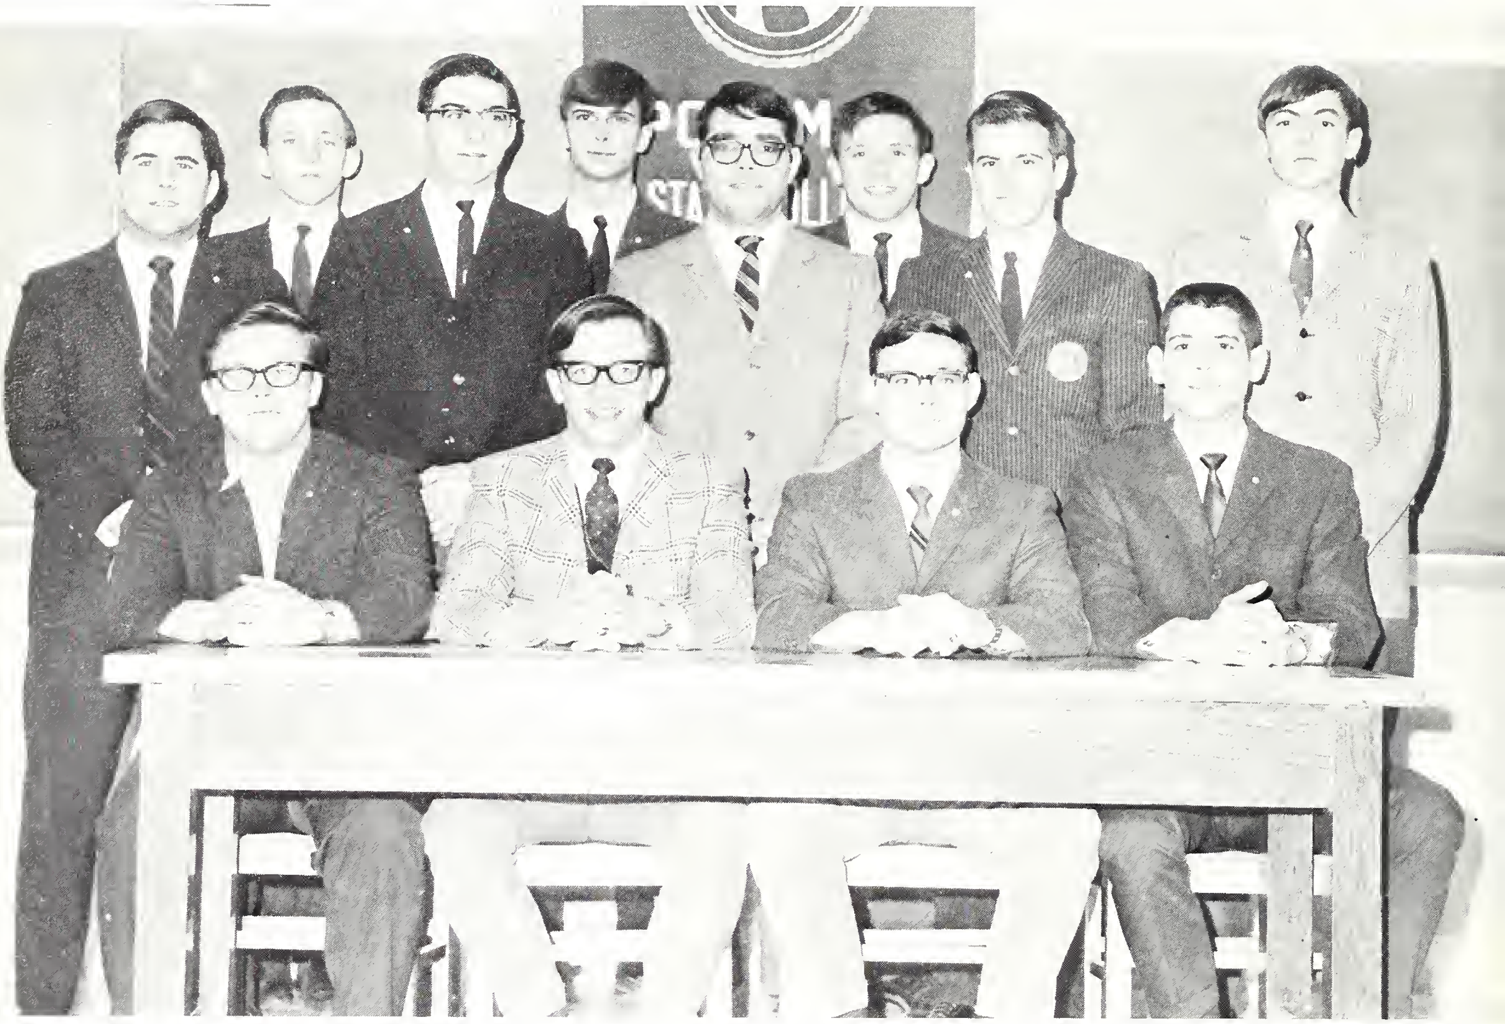
Circle K



The Circle K Club of Potomac State College is the only true service organization on campus and is dedicated to the ideals of service to the college and the community of Keyser. The club was established in 1952 and was issued certificate number six when Circle K became an international organization. At the present time there are 744 Circle K Clubs and over 14,000 members in the United States and Canada. The club is made up of young men of good character and scholastic standing, whose only returns from their service to others is the thanks and appreciation that comes from such work.

The club has had another active year, the major projects being the following: sponsorship of the Third Annual Leadership Banquet, sponsoring the Homecoming parade, bringing the Red Cross Blood Mobile to the campus, working at basketball and football games, loaning the student government money to bring Anthony and the Imperials to campus, delivering birthday cakes to the students, delivering "starvation kits" to the students during the final examination periods, and many other such projects of service.

The Agriculture Club of Potomac State College is open to all students majoring in Agriculture, Pre-Veterinary medicine, and Forestry. The club was organized in October, 1954 and since then has tried to develop the use of parliamentary procedure at its meetings, to develop cooperation, citizenship, and leadership, and to promote recreational activities for the members of the club.

The Agriculture Club planned many activities for money making and pleasure. A shooting match was held with great success and the club participated in picking corn at one of the college farms. Also planned was the sale of flower bulbs and the sale of pork and beef. The money made from these activities was used for a planned field trip, a barbecue to which the faculty was invited, and a planned trip to be taken with the Home Economics Club to a point of interest to both clubs. Also a joint meeting was held with the Home Economics Club at which the Agriculture Club gave a demonstration of parliamentary procedure.

Engineers Club

Lending a professional atmosphere to the academic life of engineers on the campus, the Engineers Club has been in existence since 1932. The main purpose of the organization is to make the student engineer aware of the professional aspects of engineering. This is accomplished throughout the college year by inviting practicing engineers to give talks at meetings, the showing of industrial films, and taking trips to industrial plants in the area. Freshman engineers qualify for membership by attaining a required scholastic average during their first semester at Potomac State College. Sophomore engineering students in all engineering classes, by election, act as officers of the Engineers Club.

The Potomac State College Chapter of Home Economics is affiliated with the West Virginia and American Home Economics Association. The symbol of Chapter, as is the symbol of the American Home Economics Association, is the Betty lamp. It stands for the simplicity of American homelife and the idea of spreading light on an orderly household. The chapter's aim is to promote interest and spread information concerning the home economics profession.

The year began formally with a Get-Acquainted reception, given by the sophomores for the incoming freshmen. The annual mum sale was conducted for Homecoming. At Christmas, the club sponsored a panel discussion featuring the views of three local ministers on the subject "Christmas 1967." We also sent gifts to selected children at Keyser Elementary School. The January program featured a demonstration on Parliamentary Procedures given by the Agriculture Club, and discussions by two local VISTA workers. Food demonstrations were also featured as additional programs. An Easter party was given for selected children from the local elementary school in April. The chapter also participates in the spring meeting of the West Virginia Home Economics Association at Charleston.

The Christian Youth Fellowship is an organization which attempts to bring the Christian Youth of Potomac State in closer contact with the church and to deepen their devotional life through recreation and fellowship. Programs dealing with moral issues of interest to youth, and modern religious practices are presented at the meetings held at the recreation room of Friend Hall, 7:30 each Monday evening.

The organization watched and discussed films presented by Reverend Frederick Bannorot, dealing with moral and racial issues; and conducted Pre-Easter Communion and worship services for Protestant students. In cooperation with the Newman Club, it sponsored, The Parable, a free introductory film to Spiritual Emphasis Week. The Spiritual Emphasis program differed from previous ones by featuring only one speaker, Mr. William Glenesk, who has his congregation participate in services and has performances by dancers, jazz musicians, humorists, sculptors, playwrights and actors.

As one of the two religious organizations on campus, the Newman Club strives to advance the concept of Christian principles for students living in the college community. By attending meetings, Catholic students may attain a deeper interest in Catholic education, along with an increase in the principles of their faith. Assistance has been given throughout the year by Rev. Raymond McIntyre, pastor of the Church of the Assumption and chaplain of the group.

This year, it was decided that the second Sunday of each month would be Newman Communion Sunday. On that day, members were to sit together and receive communion as a group at the 5 p.m. Mass. Major activity this year was the sponsoring of a spaghetti dinner at St. Mary's Hall. Funds raised were used to finance second semester projects, as well as those of next year.

The Newman Club also works in cooperation with the Christian Youth Fellowship in choosing a speaker and planning for Spiritual Emphasis Week, held this year on February 12 and 13. This year's program differed from previous ones in that only one speaker was featured. Topics for discussion at the seminars were selected by members from both organizations.

The Women's

Reynolds Hall

The Women's Residence Association, which is composed of all the women living in Friend and Reynolds Halls, aims to create a friendly, co-operative atmosphere in the Women's Residence Halls. This governing body, which was established on December 7, 1944, works with the two Hall Councils to further higher living standards. The organization endeavors to emphasize the social and culture aspects of college life.

The W.R.A. has been very active this year. Some of their activities include participating in the Homecoming Parade; aiding with the Parent's Day Reception; sponsoring the annual Christmas parties in each of the dormitories; and contributing to the Keyser Elementary School Hot Lunch Program for needy children at Christmas. The Association was successful in securing some new regulations concerning dormitory living. The W.R.A. Council worked on this project during the second semester. Finally, the W.R.A. is securing reproductions of masterpieces for each of the two dormitories.

The Women's Athletic Association of Potomac State College is an organization which promotes a feeling of sportsmanship among the young women of the college. The acquiring of leadership and sportsmanship is the goal of each member of the club.

This year the W.A.A. is sponsoring co-recreation nights in the gymnasium. Co-recreation nights are evenings set aside for the women and men of the campus to display their athletic ability in several sports.

When 250 points are achieved by a young woman in the club she receives an emblem on Recognition Day at the end of the spring semester. Five hundred points warrant a school sweater.

The Insight for Action Committee was formed last year by a coterie of Potomac State students interested in actually doing something about poverty. Since that condition thrives in parts of Keyser, members began helping underpriviledged children at the local Potomac Heights Community Center. Most members tutor a child in one or more of the "three r's." For many of these children, there is a lack of concern at home about their progress in school. If a child knows that he has a "big brother" or "sis" who is concerned about him and willing to listen and help him, he may gain the courage he needs to continue working, and there is a better chance for him to escape the ranks of high school dropouts. Additionally, volunteers assist the center's 4-H Club and help direct sporting events. A field trip to the mountains with about forty children highlighted last year's activities. Above all, members have become college pals to children often badly in need of friendship, guidance and inspiration.

With the construction of the new Church–McKee Art Center, there has been a larger participation in players than that of previous years. This year there was a total of thirty players in the organization. The purpose of Potomac State Players is to provide students with experience in every part of the theater. Training includes acting, set direction, lighting techniques, and the art of stage makeup.

At the beginning of the first semester the members of Players presented three one-act plays: The Lottery, The Inexperienced Ghost, and The Stout Gentlemen. Later in the semester, Players prepared the Potomac State Showcase, a talent show, in cooperation with the Stage Band. Between times, when there was not much activity on the campus, there were several readings from Shakespeare done by players as a group on Monday nights. Opening the second semester, Players got off to a good start with a romantic comedy, The Romancers. Next, in the latter part of March, the major production of the year, Look Homeward Angel, was performed. The final presentation was the children's play in April.

Potomac State Singers

The Singers, the college choral organization, is a mixed chorus open to all students by audition. The group performs both sacred and secular choral literature chosen from the works of the earliest masters to those of the present day. Performance responsibilities of the Singers include the Christmas and Spring programs and the series of programs presented while on tour to high schools throughout West Virginia and neighboring states. The Singers are sometimes called on to perform for various other college programs and functions. The year's activities close with the Singers' performances at Sermon and Commencement.

Potomac State Concert Band

The Potomac State College Concert Band is a credit course open to all students who desire to continue and expand their musical training and appreciation. Through regularly scheduled rehearsals, the Concert Band devotes its time to the study and performance of band literature of the highest possible quality. The Concert Band participates in a Christmas Concert each year and presents a spring concert. Also, in the spring, the band makes a performing tour to neighboring high schools.

Potomac State Dance Band

The Potomac State College Stage Band is a credit course and is open to any student possessing the playing skills necessary for performing this type music. The prime objective of this organization is to afford the members the opportunity to gain knowledge and experience, through performance, in the field of dance music. Regularly scheduled rehearsals are held each week in preparation for the several concerts and the annual spring tour usually made in conjunction with the Concert Band and the Potomac State Singers. This year the Stage Band sponsored and performed in, along with the Drama Club, a successful campus talent show.

Sigma Phi Omega, founded in 1923, was established at Potomac State College to foster scholarship and citizenship. Throughout the years, the prestige of this organization has grown, and membership in it is a coveted honor. It has remained a local honor fraternity with its own constitution, ritual, insignia, and traditions.

Sigma Phi Omega makes important contributions to campus life each year. Two convocations are sponsored by the group, Know Your Organizations and Recognition Day. The former is held during Freshman Week to acquaint new students with the various campus organizations, their history, officers, and objectives. Recognition Day summarizes the activities of all campus organizations and furnishes the setting for honors and awards presented to outstanding Potomac State College students.

The fraternity always closes its year's activities with a banquet honoring new members and the parents of all members. On this occasion an outstanding personage is invited to be guest speaker.

Members of Sigma Phi Omega strive to be faithful to their pledges made upon entering the organization: to maintain high standards of scholarship and citizenship and to cooperate with the college on all occasions.

Roth Military Honorary Society

Sophomore Members

Organized in 1953, the Roth Military Honorary Society was named after Colonel Samuel Roth, the Professor of Military Science at West Virginia University, who was instrumental in establishing the ROTC Program at Potomac State.

The society exists to foster, develop and preserve the highest ideals of the military profession, to promote American citizenship, to encourage and increase leadership and leadership opportunity, and to provide recognition as a high degree of military and scholastic attainment among ROTC cadets.

Under the leadership of David Nestor, the organization has been active. The Annual Roth Banquet was held in November and highlighted the first semester activities which included initiation of new members, entering a float in the Homecoming parade and supporting the Catamount Rifle Team. The second semester saw Roth sponsoring the annual Military Ball in April, selecting a Queen to reign over the Ball, initiating freshman members and nominating ROTC Battalion sponsors for election by the freshmen of the Battalion. Throughout the entire year, Roth supported and conducted ceremonies of a military nature in conjunction with college events.

To be invited and accepted into the Society, a student must attain a minimum grade of "B" in Military Science and have an overall academic average of "C" or better.

Members of the society are distinguished from other ROTC cadets by a scarlet and white fourragere and ribbon which are worn with the uniform.

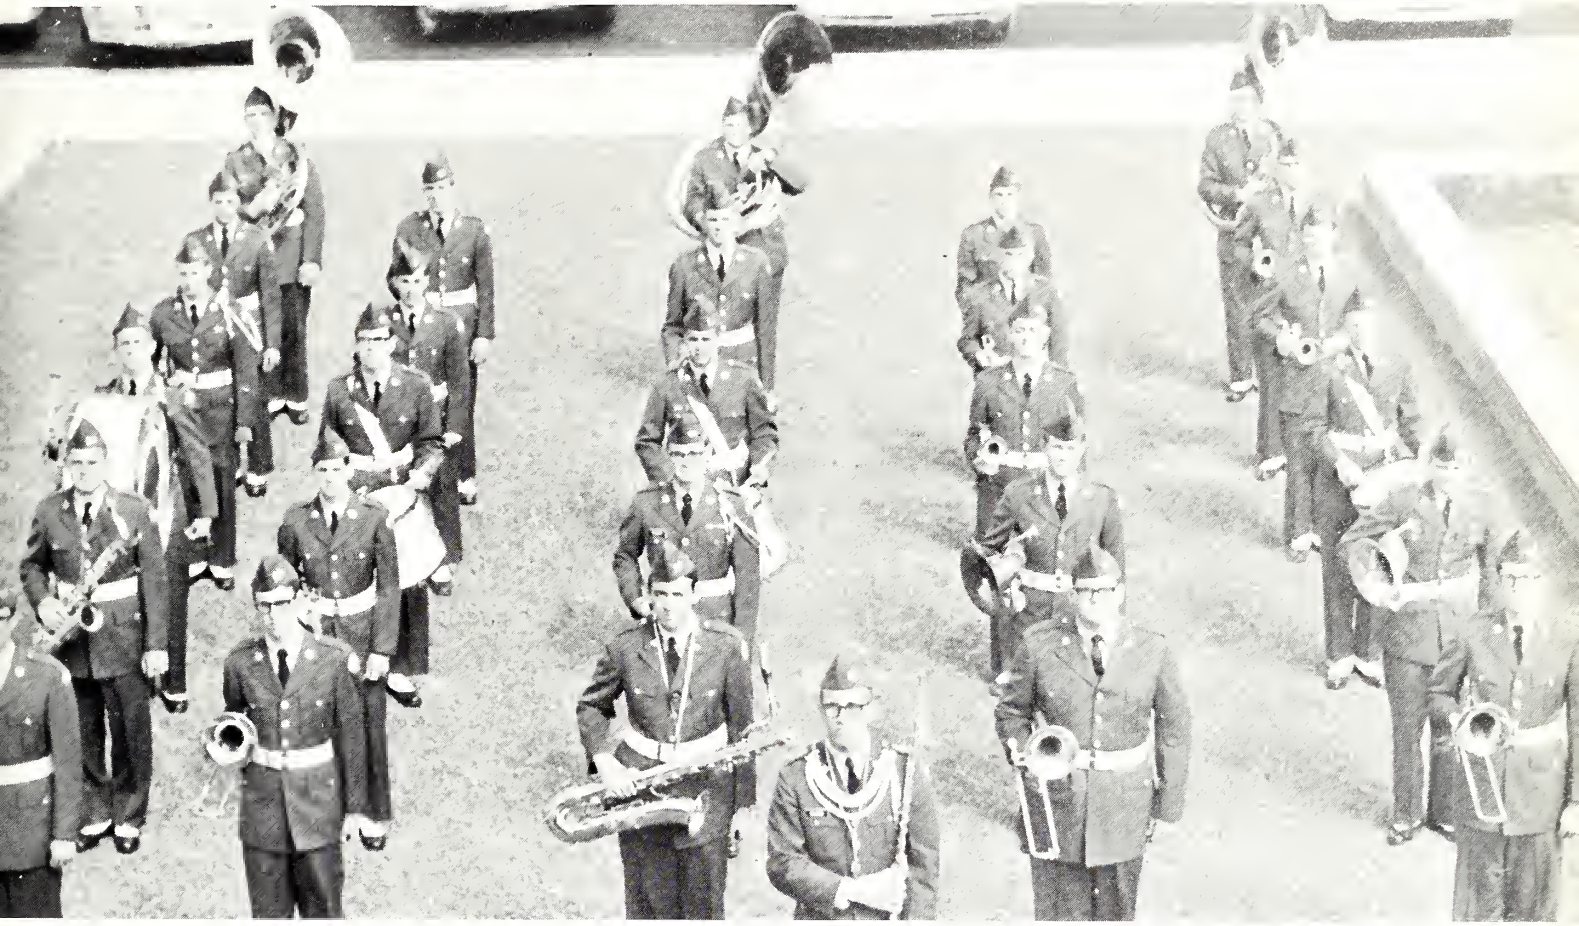
The Catamount Rifle Team is sponsored by the Roth Military Honorary Society and is affiliated with the National Rifle Association. To become a member of the team one must meet requirements set forth by the National Junior College Athletic Association. The aim of the rifle team is to encourage rifle marksmanship and shooting safety. Sophomore members are awarded sweaters; freshman members are given letters, provided they fire and place in the required number of matches.

At the start of the season there was a marked lack of experience as only one sophomore returned to the team. As the season progressed the freshmen riflemen began to come into their own as both skill and confidence increased. After their first fourteen matches, which were a combination of shoulder to shoulder and postal matches, the Catamount Riflemen compiled seven wins and seven losses. In firing the postal matches, the Riflemen came up against such teams as Notre Dame, University of Tennessee, University of Houston, the Citadel and other colleges and universities throughout the country.

Highlights of the season came in an upset win over Southwest Missouri State and a near win over the University of Notre Dame.

Military Marching Band



The Potomac State College R.O.T.C. Marching Band is made up of men regularly enrolled in the R.O.T.C. program. Members may earn up to twenty ROTC merits for participation and may also earn one hour of college credit. In the fall the band performed for the ROTC noon formations, the home football games, and for several area parades. The annual inspection and the President's Review highlight the spring season.

The R.O.T.C. drill team, organized October 30, 1957, is a volunteer organization whose members are selected on a competitive basis for proficiency in drill. The purpose of the drill team is to develop leadership potential through the discipline of precision drill and to represent the Reserve Officers Training Corps in local and campus activities. The team strives to maintain high standards and individual members must constantly improve in order to remain with the team.

During October, the team performed in Halloween parades at Frostburg and Cumberland. On November 4, the cadets presented a drill exhibition during halftime at the Parents Day Football game. The high point of the year was reached on November 27 with the capture of first prize in the drill competition of the Frostburg Christmas Parade. Under the command of Drill Master, David M. Smith, the drill team brought credit upon itself and on Potomac State throughout the Tri-State area.

Eta Upsilon Gamma

Crowning of Queen at Harvest Swing

Eta Upsilon Gamma

Eta Upsilon Gamma, the oldest sorority in the National College Panhellenic Council, was founded in 1901 at Christian College in Columbia, Missouri. Their motto, Be Strong in the Truth, typifies the Gammas' true aim to promote higher endeavors, to aid in the development of strong character, and to provide the chance to broaden and enrich friendship. Eta Upsilon Gamma is "a friend of another self" . . . Aristotle.

Early in the school year, the Omega chapter sponsored the afternoon seminar of Miss Marie Gipe, the author of THE FEMININE LOOK. The Gamma princess for Miss Catamount was Beverly Donley, while Carole Bourke was crowned Queen of the annual Harvest Swing, which Gammas co-sponsored with their brother fraternity, Theta Sigma Chi. On December 11 the sorority treated its members to a Christmas party, with gifts being exchanged between the big sisters and their little sisters. During the spring, Gammas held a work week to raise money, with the girls performing odd jobs for the faculty and the administration of Potomac State College. Moreover, the sorority held a car wash and a spaghetti dinner in order to raise money to send their 1968-1969 president to the Eta Upsilon Gamma National Convention.

Thetas enjoy card party.

Theta Sigma Chi

Theta Sigma Chi fraternity of Potomac State College was founded in 1922, and is designated Alpha Chapter of the National Theta Sigma Chi Fraternity. Its objectives are the development of high moral character, the promotion of brotherhood, justice and fidelity, stimulation of school spirit and the strengthening of Potomac State College.

Theta Sigma Chi is an active participant in campus activities. In the fall it sponsored the election and coronation of the Homecoming Queen, and a float in the parade. Thetas set a new trend this year by having the court consisting of eight candidates. Thetas won the bonfire contest at homecoming and copped the football championship by beating Kappas and an independent team. Later a Halloween party was held with their sister sorority, the Gammas. A fraternity cook-out was held in October at Mr. Dayton's cabin. The fall season ended with the Theta sponsored dance, the Harvest Swing, at which Ron Sheets was honored as king. In December a Christmas party was held and one of the pledges' projects was to trim Mr. Dayton's Christmas tree.

Second semester started with the pledges going active and receiving their mugs and blankets. Other activities included informal parties, another outing to the sponsor's cabin, and election of officers.

Many Theta members held various outstanding positions in numerous campus activities. Among these are: Ron Haggerty, president of Panhellenic and member of the President's Council; Ron Sheets and Jeff Jarrett, members of the Catamount basketball team; Terry Michael, player on the Potomac State football team; and many Thetas, members of the R.O.T.C. drill team.

Theta Sigma Chi is grateful to Mr. Ervin L. Dayton who has been sponsor of the fraternity since 1937.

Informal "gab session" after sorority meeting.

Kappa Delta Psi

Established in 1951, Kappa Delta Psi is the youngest sorority at Potomac State College and is the only local sorority on campus. It was established primarily for girls who will transfer to a university and wish to join a national sorority there. Members are expected to uphold the motto of truth, honor, and purity and are encouraged to be examples of good citizenship and scholarship. Also, it is hoped that girls who pledge the sorority have pledged their loyalty to Potomac State and will, in turn, become part of it through Kappa Delta Psi.

This year's activities began with the semi-formal rush party in the Home Economics Apartment. Patronesses attended this function, as well as Miss Diane Daniels, a former member who provided vocal entertainment. Homecoming was also a busy time with float construction and participation in the various activities. With initiation of a committee system this year, each sister shared the work load in planning and helping with the other social functions such as mixers, the formal initiation, and the annual Christmas party. In the spring, Kappas co-sponsored the Easter Ball with their brother fraternity. Highlight of the year was the banquet at which the year's activities were reviewed and next year's officers were announced. Kappas also contribute annually to the scholarship fund.

Kappas are active in many campus organizations. Special positions are held by the following: Judith Collins, member of the court of Miss Catamount XXIX and ROTC sponsor; Kathryn Davis, news editor of the Pasquino, secretary of the Newman Club, and a member of Sigma Phi Omega Honor Society; Linda DiGuistino, accompanist for the Singers; Eileen Miller, secretary of Panhellenic; Terry Reeves, member of Sigma Phi Omega; Linda Richardson, president of the Home Economics Club and also the Women's Residence Association, and Judith Spencer, representative to the National 4-H Convention in Chicago.

Phi Kappa Omega

Phi Kappa Omega Fraternity is proud of its position in the social life of Potomac State College and loyally supports all campus activities. Phi Kappa Omega was organized at Potomac State College in 1949 and has steadily grown in stature since then. The objectives of the fraternity are to promote leadership, develop a feeling of brotherhood among its members, strengthen moral character, and encourage academic achievement. The fraternity demands individual initiative and loyality to the college from its members.

The fraternity sponsored various activities throughout the school year. The year began with a rush party which brought thirty pledges into the fraternity. Phi Kappa Omega had the distinction of bringing in more pledges than any other fraternity on campus. In October the fraternity worked together with the sister sorority to sponsor a float in the Homecoming Parade. Two mixers were held in the fall with the sister sorority. The fraternity's loyalty to the college and support of athletics was exemplified when the members worked hard in a contest to build a bonfire for the Homecoming rally. Other activities included an informal party and a fraternity football and basketball team. The month of April will bring the traditional Easter Ball, which is the highlight of the fraternity's activities.

Phi Kappa Omega is proud of the high moral character and integrity of its members. They spread the fraternity's high ideals among the student body and constantly strive for the betterment of Potomac State College.

Sigma Iota Chi

Sigma Iota Chi, largest national Junior College Sorority in the United States, was founded by Captain Greer A. Duncan in 1903. The Epsilon Chapter was established at Potomac State in 1923. The purpose of this sorority is to perfect and in our everyday life carry out the meaning of sisterhood, to be forgetful of self and mindful of others, and to reach the highest standards possible, mentally, morally and physically.

In September the annual rush party was held at the Home Economics Apartment. Following the distribution of bids, Sigma received 35 pledges. The 35 pledges worked with the sophomore members and Phi Sigma Nu members to sponsor a float in the Homecoming Parade. In December, Sigma Iota Chi and Phi Sigma Nu jointly sponsored the Christmas dance and in February sponsored the Sweetheart Ball.

Freshmen break at "frat" party

Phi Sigma Nu

Phi Sigma Nu has been an outstanding social fraternity at Potomac State College. With its founding on campus in 1922, the fraternity holds membership in the National College Panhellenic and is titled Beta Chapter of the National Phi Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Phi Sigma Nu demands high moral standards, individual development of character, leadership, and scholastic achievement of its members, as well as loyalty and support for the college. Phi Sigma Nu holds high the distinction of possession of the highest scholastic average of all fraternities on campus. Outstanding qualities are exemplified by several members maintaining high campus positions: Terry Higgins, President of the Sophomore Class, Vice-President of the Student Body, and member of the President's Council and Men's Residence Council; Bill Huff, President of the Student Body, member of the President's Council, Sigma Phi Omega Honorary Society, and the Men's Residence Council; Robert Thompson and Randall Pingley, members of the Men's Residence Council, with Randall serving as the Sophomore Class Representative to the Student Government; Tom Johnson, President of the Freshman Class and member of the President's Council; John Kurish, President of Phi Sigma Nu, President of Panhellenic, Vice-President of Circle K, and member of Sigma Phi Omega Honorary Society, the President's Council, and the Men's Residence Council.

At Homecoming, where Phi Sigma Nu's candidate, Miss Beverly Burket, was elected Queen, the fraternity joined with its sister, Sigma Iota Chi, in entering a float which tied for first place in the parade. At the "Sigma" sponsored Snow Ball, held December 9, "Sandi" Cleveland and "Chip" Shubargo were the Royalty. In February, the fraternity co-ordinated with its sister sorority in sponsoring the annual Sweetheart Ball.

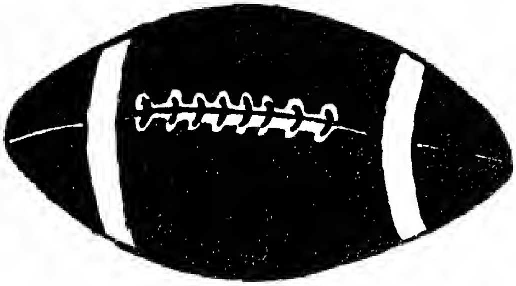
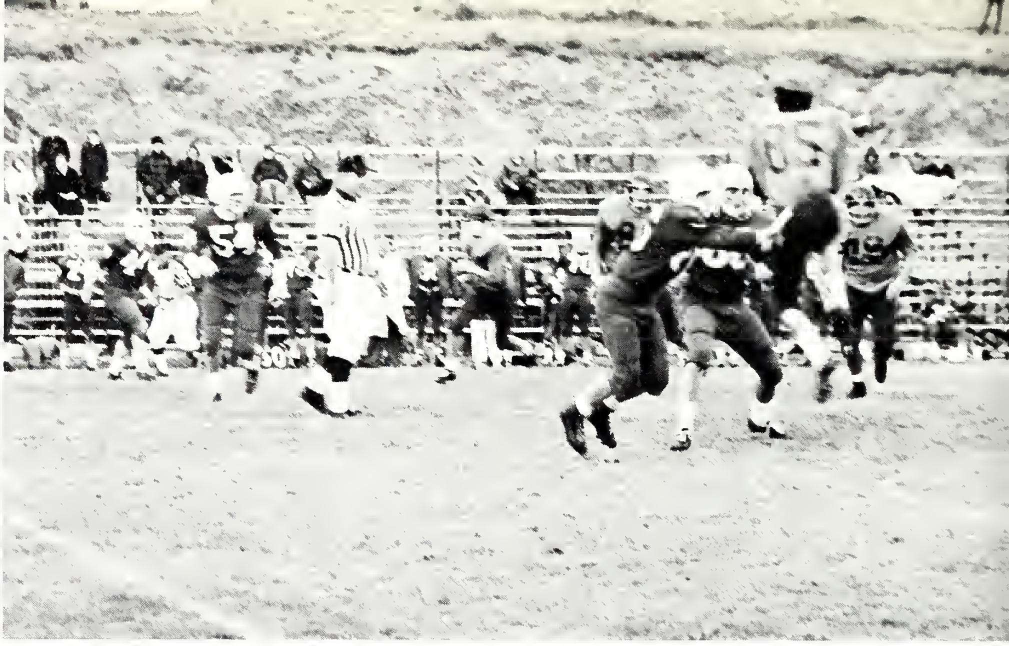
The Panhellenic Council is the governing body of the fraternities and sororities and correlates their campus activities. The council promotes good fellowship and cooperation among the Greek organizations, and assists in maintaining "esprit de corps" and engenders within the student body high ideals of life, character, and citizenship. One of the highest honors that a fraternity or sorority may bestow on one of their members is to elect them to be their representative on the Panhellenic Council.

Two representatives, one of which is the president, from each of the Greek organizations on campus form the Panhellenic Council of Potomac State College. The representatives meet on the second Tuesday of each month to discuss fraternity–sorority relations, problems, or suggestions of campus activities. Of primary concern is the regulating of Rush Week and Hell Week activities and fraternal participation in campus elections. This year the council sponsored a Panhellenic picnic as an end-of-the-year activity.



ATHLETICS

Potomac State Catamounts Football 1967 Season



Hold it, Ric! Hold it!

Saturday, September 16, 1967, was a sunny Autumn afternoon in Keyser. Campus attention was focused upon Stayman Field where the Catamount grid team hosted Bainbridge Naval Academy in the season opener. After a scoreless first half, Bainbridge took a 7–0 lead. The Cats' sophomore quarterback, Dave Kelly, tossed a 20-yard scoring-strike to another sophomore, Steve Delaney, for the Cats' first touchdown of the season. The visitors chalked up three touchdowns before PSC's backup quarterback, Tom Landis, fired a touchdown-toss to another freshman, Chuck Hart, on the last play of the game. When dust had cleared, the scoreboard showed that Bainbridge had sunk the locals 27–13. The game also cost Coach Dana G. "Horse" Lough the services of fullback Richard Peck for the rest of the season because of a head injury.

The high point of the season came on September 23 at Stayman Field. The Catamounts shocked the favored Chowan Braves by jumping to a 27–7 lead. Steve Delaney blocked a Chowan punt and Bill Huff scooped up the pigskin and "dashed" 39 yards for the score. Kelley fired a scoring strike to Rick Davidson and connected with Bill Haddox for two touchdown tosses, one for 64 yards. Chowan signal-caller Jerry Scharnus came back with two "long-bombs." He hit on touchdown passes of 76 and 54 yards. The Braves were soon in Catamount territory at the 14-yard line, needing a touchdown to win. Steve Delaney stormed through Chowan blockers to make a game-saving tackle and post a 27–21 victory. PSC's fortunes changed, however, as the next four outings ended with defeat. The Loughmen journeyed to Winchester, Va. where they were downed by Shenandoah, 32–20, in a hard-fought night contest. The highlight of the evening for PSC fans was a 50-yard touchdown toss from Kelley to Delaney. October 7 marked Homecoming. The Cats hosted the No. 2 ranked junior-college team in the nation, Ferrum. The invaders from Virginia chalked up a 71–14 victory over the Catamounts. Injured in the fray were PSC linemen Dave Nestor and Tony Lautar, both out for the season. Halfback Bill Haddox took over at quarterback late in the game when Kelley suffered a minor back injury and promptly startled Ferrum with two touchdown-passes from the old single-wing formation. The following week, the local eleven journeyed to Rockville, Md. and dropped a 41–14 setback to Montgomery. Potomac's fourth loss in a row and the fifth of the season came at the hands of Wesley, 50–16, at Stayman Field. Bel Air, Md. was the site of the Cats' second victory of the season. The Blue & Gold edged Harford 27–25 under the lights in a thriller. PSC scoring came on two Kelley-Davidson touchdown passes, a 60-yard run by Hart, and a recovered blocked punt by George Hibbert. Hibbert also pounced on a Harford fumble with two minutes left to half a Harford drive and preserve the victory. Potomac State's eleven closed out the season at home on Parent's Day by losing to powerful Baltimore 55–20. Catamount fans were treated to a 71-yard scoring dash by Bill Haddox.

The season record was two wins and six losses. PSC's offensive unit, led by a predominately sophomore line and the passing of Kelley to such targets as sophomore ends Rick Davidson and Steve Delaney, tallied at least two touchdown per outing. The freshmen were not to be left out, however. The starting halfbacks, Bill Haddox and Chuck Hart (alias the "Dynamic Duo") led the Cat ground game. Haddox led the Cats in scoring with eight touchdowns and booted 16 extra points in 21 tries. The speedy Fairmont native also paced the Catamounts in rushing and pass receiving.

Did we make it?

1967-68 Basketball Season

Potomac State's high-scoring basketball team racked-up 8 victories against 12 defeats with five of those setbacks being "squeekers." The Catamounts opened the season at Johnstown Nov. 29 with an 83–75 loss despite Bob Thompson's 23 points. Winning ways began Dec. 6 as the Loughmen edged Allegany 97–92 in Cumberland, Md. Davidson hooped 27 points, while Thompson again tallied 23. Three days later, the Cats traveled to Hagerstown, Md. and returned with a 108–103 victory over Hagerstown Junior College. The Blue & Gold captain, Bob Thompson, scored 25 points. Dec. 13 marked the home opener, and the Cats celebrated by spanking Altoona 82–61 behind Davidson's 35 counters. The locals' first heart-breaker came on Dec. 16 with a last-second, 90–88 loss to unbeaten Catonsville. Davidson and Thompson again paced the Loughmen.

The cagers returned from the semester break with depleted ranks and were defeated by powerful Baltimore 99–63. Winning ways returned on Jan. 8 as the Loughmen put their exciting fast-break in high-gear to down Johnstown 105–100. Davidson, Thompson, Hartleben, and Williams, each scorched the nets for more than 20 points in the revenge win. The Catamounts departed for a three-game road trip and must have forgotten their rabbit's foot as they bowed to Essex 105–97 in overtime on Jan. 18, lost to Harford on Jan. 19, 91–90, and were edged by Bainbridge, 87–86, on Jan. 20. Eventual Tri-State Conference Champion Wesley welcomed the Cats home with a 7–1 center and 121–81 defeat. Jerry Hartleben meshed 23 points in the losing cause. PSC journeyed to Altoona, Pa. on Jan. 24, where the revenge-minded Altoona cagers upended the locals, 92–78. Powerful Montgomery began February by edging the Catamounts 117–115 on a last-second goal. Freshman Marty William scorched the nets for a sizzling 45 points in the losing effort. Bainbridge came to Keyser and handed the local five their seventh consecutive loss, 106–70 on Feb. 3. The Loughmen halted the loss skein on Feb. 7–8 by trouncing Allegany 96–68 and Ann Arundel 113–75 on the local boards. Rick Davidson paced the Cats in both wins with 24 and 36 points, respectively. A tough Ohio Valley five interrupted the Catamounts victorious spree Feb. 12 with a 105–79 setback, despite Davidson's 32 points. The Loughmen were victorious in their final home game. Davidson, Thompson, William, Hartleben, and Landis, each hit in double-figures to post a 97–83 win over Shenandoah. Davidson and Hartleben tallied 35 and 27 points, respectively, as the Cats recorded their final victory on Feb. 16. The Loughmen trounced Charles College 102–80 at LaPlatta, Md. Prince George ended PSC's cage season by downing the Blue & Gold 90–76.

Typical of the "just miss" season, the Cats failed to qualify for the TSC tourney by one game. Rick Davidson scored 482 points in 20 outings for a 24.1 average. The sophomore from Monongah ranked second in conference scoring. Also in the top ten was the Cats' 6–3 pivot-man, Bob Thompson. The "blond-bomber" hit at a 17.1 per game clip. Jerry Hartleben averaged 14.5 while Marty William tallied 12.6 points per game. The 67-68 edition marked Coach Dana G. Lough's 33rd Catamount basketball team.

The Madrigal

The Madrigal was a musical invention of 14th century Italy. Laid aside during the whole of the 15th century, it was revived in the 16th and early 17th centuries, during which period it assumed the style by which it is chiefly known and became popular over the greater part of Europe. England, however, was the only country in which the Italian madrigal became completely naturalized; no other country outside Italy produced madrigals either in such quantity or of so high a standard of quality.

Madrigals are epigrammatic poems, set as vocal chamber-music; that is to say, they are ideally sung to perfection when there is no more than one voice to a part. Their revival in our own time, however, has shown what enjoyment they can also bring to a group of singers in ensemble. The poetic subjects are chiefly amorous, but often satirical, social, humorous or political as well.

The typical madrigal is for four or five voices (although sometimes for two or seven) which not only provides for an enriched harmony but allows frequent division of the singers into opposing groups. The delight of singing them arises from the fact that every part is contrapuntally interesting as well as admirably vocal. The voices are treated as the skilled and sensitive servants of the composer, like the instruments in a late quartet of Beethoven, and thus the madrigal becomes in fact a conscious and accomplished work of art.

It is within this historical background and tradition of Madrigal singing and Handbell ringing that the Madrigal Singers of the First Presbyterian Church have adopted their title and have chosen this style of performing not only madrigals but music from the various musical periods.

Handbells

There has been a recent and enthusiastic growth of the ancient and honorable art of English handbell ringing in this country, having been introduced in Boston by the Beacon Hill Ringers in 1925.

The sound of a bell has appealed to the hearts of mankind throughout the ages; traditions and associations connected with bell ringing are intricately woven through the fabric of Western culture. The lore of bells is virtually endless.

The exact origin of bells is lost in the earliest beginnings of history. The first crude bells fashioned of clay or wood by primitive man were certainly handbells and inevitably played an integral part in various festivities and religious ceremonials for peoples of all cultures.

Although early references to bells exist from the Egyptians, Greeks, Chinese and in the Old Testament, there was no authoritative information before the Christian Era. The usage of the Latin words "campana" and "nola" to denote "large bell in a tower" and "small bell" have led some authorities to credit Paulinus, a Bishop of Nola, in Campania, Italy, ca. 400, with having been the first to introduce bells into the Christian church. At any rate, bell towers are known as campaniles, and the term for the science of bell ringing is campanology. Churches and bell towers appeared in the wake of Christian missionaries throughout the Continent and westward to the British Isles.

Handbells as we know them today were devised in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries by English tower bell ringers as a means of practicing change ringing. ("Change ringing" is based on mathematical rather than musical principles.) It was much more comfortable to sit around a table in a heated room and practice with small handbells than to spend tiresome hours in a cold tower swinging heavy bells with ropes. Some peals require several hours to complete.

By 1700, larger sets of handbells were being cast by bell foundries and "tune ringing" became popular. The custom developed in certain localities for handbell ringers, like carolers or waits to appear on the streets, on the village greens, or on church steps and ring carols, hymns, and folk songs on festal occasions.

The first reference to handbells in the United States, so far uncovered, was in the early 1840's when P. T. Barnum, America's great showman, heard a prize tune-ringing group in Liverpool and engaged them for an American Tour.

Handbell ringing today is a modern renaissance of an ancient folk art.
